Service Important to Educators

Consult us if in need of teachers or if available for teaching positions. We maintain the largest teacher placement work in the United States under one management (under the personal direction of ERNEST E. OLP, 28 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago).

FISK TEACHERS AGENCY, Steger Building, 28 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago

An educational clearing house for teachers and those who employ them. Affiliated offices in principal cities.

NATIONAL TEACHERS AGENCY, Southern Bldg., Washington

General teachers bureau—national in scope.

EDUCATION SERVICE, 1254 Amsterdam Avenue, New York

The whole endeavor of Education Service is service, to render the greatest aid to the largest number at the lowest cost; to be a clearing house for schools and teachers as well as an educational information bureau. The employment service includes administrative and departmental work in private and public schools, colleges and universities; such positions as business managers, purchasing agents for schools, financial secretaries, registrars, accountants, private secretaries, matrons, housemothers, cafeteria directors, trained nurses and dietitians.

The CHICAGO OFFICE, located at 19 S. LaSalle St., has inaugurated some special forms of service. In the travel service it arranges for congenial groups, frequently securing special privileges and rates, particularly for European trips. In the thrift and savings work it distributes thrift literature, and through leading banks and bond houses of Chicago and New York it offers a special investment service for teachers. Teachers are urged not to purchase miscellaneous stocks and bonds without first permitting this bureau to consult reliable sources as to their value; the service is entirely free.

The Chicago office of Education Service also places teachers and other well-trained men and women in commercial positions. This offers a field for educators who wish to change their work or who are not now teaching.

AMERICAN COLLEGE BUREAU, Chicago Temple, 77 W. Washington St., Chicago

A general information bureau for colleges and universities, maintaining a personnel division. It is endeavoring to meet the long-felt need of a professional bureau that assists college executives to secure faculty members and well-equipped college teachers to secure professional advancement. The work of the American College Bureau is limited to colleges and universities. It operates on a cost basis. While it is self-supporting, it is non-commercial.

Educational Announcements

How to Select a School

Parents desiring to gain reliable information concerning the best schools for their sons and daughters, and young men and women who desire to avail themselves of the best educational facilities, are invited to consult carefully the educational announcements on the following pages.

The announcements well represent the school and college equipment of the country. They contain much interesting and instructive information which cannot fail to be exceedingly helpful for a study of the educational opportunities offered, from the Kindergarten to the University.

- Agricultural Colleges
- Art Schools
- Boys' Prep. Schools
- Business Colleges
- Co-educational Prep. Schools
- Colleges
- Colleges for Women
- Dental Schools
- Domestic Science Schools
- Schools of Oratory
- Engineering Schools
- Girls' Boarding Schools
- Kindergarten Training Schools
- Law Schools
- Medical Schools
- Military Academies
- Music Conservatories
- Normal Schools
- Physical Education Schools
- Summer Camps (Boys)
- Summer Camps (Girls)
- Technical Schools
- Universities

Pains have been taken to admit only schools that have gained distinctive recognition.

The educational announcements are grouped by states. A handy index to them, arranged alphabetically and also by states, will be found at the end of this volume.

Requests for additional information concerning any of the schools designated will receive prompt attention.

In order to serve inquirers with entire satisfaction it is necessary to know the type of school desired, the section of country most convenient, amount to be expended, religious denomination, and any special characteristics of the student that may assist in the selection.

BIBLE INSTITUTE OF LOS ANGELES

A BRIEF HISTORY

In the summer of 1906, a Young Men's Bible Class was organized in Immanuel Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles by Rev. T. C. Horton, Bible Teacher of the Church. This class soon took on larger proportions and was named "The Fishermen's Club," based upon Matthew 4:19. "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men."

In the fall of 1907, at the request of Mr. D. H. Steele, manager of a large department store, a similar class was organized for the young women of his store, under the leadership of Mrs. Anna Horton. This class soon grew to large numbers, including young women from other stores and offices, and was named the "Lyceum Club."

These two classes, with an influence extending to every section of the city and constantly growing in numbers and power, became the nucleus of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, which was organized in the fall of 1907.

In February, 1908, a permanent organization was effected, with Mr. Lyman Stewart as President and the Rev. T. C. Horton as Superintendent, who continue to fill these offices. Mr. Stewart, for many years a prominent layman in evangelical circles in Los Angeles, has given generously of his means and time to the development of our work, and due largely to his careful oversight, the Institute has assumed its present splendid proportions and character.

The work and scope of the Institute continuing to increase until its quarters were entirely inadequate, property was purchased on Hope Street, and on June 12, 1912, ground was broken for the new buildings, which were opened to the public Easter Sunday, 1915.

These buildings are complete in all their appointments, containing a large auditorium seating 4000 people, class rooms, dining room, and two dormitories of over 600 rooms.

BIBLE INSTITUTE OF LOS ANGELES
536 Hope St., Los Angeles, Calif.

A Big School for Little Boys

ATTENDANCE—There are two hundred fifty boarding pupils of Caucasian race, and ranging in age from six to fourteen years.

FACULTY—The teaching force consists of twenty-six men and women, chosen not only for their teaching ability but for their high character and interest in boys.

LOCATION—The school is located in the open country midway between the business section of Los Angeles and the ocean. The land is high and near enough to the ocean to get the cooling breeze each afternoon.

HEALTH—The school has had a remarkable health record. It has lost only one boy by death during the fifteen years of its existence and that one by an isolated case of spinal meningitis. Epidemics are rare and a call by the doctor is unusual.

MILITARY—There being no high school course, all of the cadets, both officers and privates, are of grammar school age. No one can overestimate the value in character development to a boy at this formative age when placed in such a position of responsibility as the command of a company.

BUILDINGS—There are twenty-three buildings belonging to the school and all those in which the pupils sleep are constructed of hollow tile so as to make them safe from fire.

RELIGION—The school is undenominational. Although the headmaster is a Protestant, the teaching force includes Catholics and Christian Scientists, and the student body has among its members pupils of many shades of religious belief.

ALWAYS OPEN—On account of the extreme youth of the pupils the school never closes, so that parents who are abroad may know that there is no danger of their sons being without proper supervision at the close of the school year. There are usually about seventy-five pupils in attendance during the summer.

COURSES OF STUDY—The courses of study are about the same as the first to the eighth grade of the public school, there being some additions, such as a foreign language and the military drill, together with the changes made possible by the small classes.

EXPENSES—The rate for boarding pupils varies from $700.00 to $800.00 for the school year and the extras, including uniforms, will come to approximately another hundred dollars.

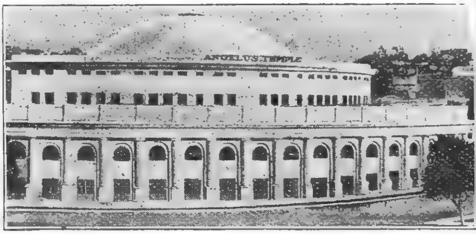
The House That God Built

All the fairy tales of the Magic Carpet and Aladdin's Lamp pale beside the modern story of this good woman's desires; First, for a home in which to shelter her own two children; next, for a home in which to shelter her thousands of spiritual children who flock to her from all parts of the earth—now magically built in answer to prayer and faith, with her life-long consecration and sacrifice.



THE BEAUTIFUL ANGELUS TEMPLE AT ECHO PARK, LOS ANGELES, CAL.

And Its Lady Pastor-Evangelist, Aimee Semple McPherson

People from all parts of the Country come to hear this young Evangelist in her own Angelus Temple. They first heard her "Back East," "Up North," "Down South" when she made her revival tours from Coast to Coast.

Thirty-two years of age, of Wesleyan Methodist parentage, born on a farm in the County of Oxford, near Ingersoll, Ontario, Canada, this little woman, who was trained to weather the blasts of Canadian winters, has had a career which today is acknowledged as one of the most unique in modern religious history. After many years spent in constant travel from coast to coast and around the world as Missionary-Evangelist, she drove with her two children and mother from New York to Los Angeles, preaching in the towns, camping by the wayside, ever confident that she was being sent on a mission for Eternal God.

But a few years have elapsed and today her dreams have been realized, the building of Angelus Temple has crowned a life of consecrated service and faith. The weekly average attendance is 40,000 to 50,000. The Angelus Temple is one of the points of interest in beautiful Los Angeles, has the largest unsupported concrete dome in America, 5300 seats which are free and open to the public. As the sunshine and beauty of Los Angeles attracts to itself people from all over the world, so does the charm and magnetism of Aimee Semple McPherson draw to herself throngs which are phenomenal.

Fairly effervescing with true Christian enthusiasm, she holds one entranced through her intensely interesting and unusual service. Here, indeed, is something different. Seated in perfect comfort in one of the 5300 spacious seats in this imposing temple, a feeling of peace and comfort and the ever-present glory of the living God creeps over one and a new, greater, finer meaning is revealed—"God's in His Heaven, All's Right with the World."

This church is never closed. Efforts are made to reach the 12,000 daily arrivals in Los Angeles. Cards of invitation, reserved seats, smiles, hand-shakes are the order of the day. You will be welcome when you visit Los Angeles. Situated at Echo Park, it is ideal in location. Ten minutes from Broadway by Edendale or Hollywood car.

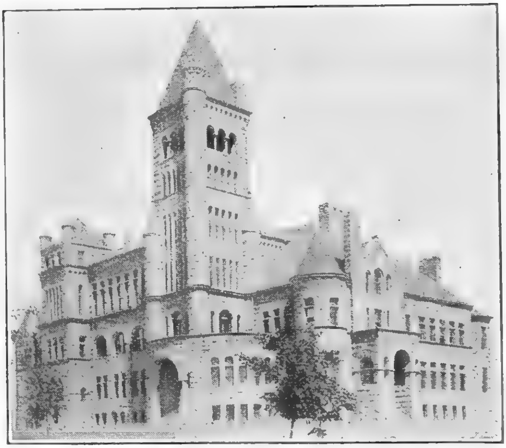
Westminster College

Pillar of Fire Institution

President
Rev. Ray B. White, A.M.
Location: Westminster, Colo.



Situated on what has been truthfully called the grandest scenic promontory in the United States. Commands three hundred miles of mountains and plains, and overlooks from its vantage point the beautiful city of Denver. A place of health and inspiration.

Westminster College was established and for some years operated by the Presbyterians. During the late war, owing to financial difficulties, it was abandoned, and in 1920 was taken over by the Pillar of Fire Church.

Pursuant of its plan to restore Westminster to its place as a first class institution of learning, the Pillar of Fire is now offering preparatory and college courses, the latter including in 1924-5 only the freshman and sophomore years.

Founder
Bishop Alma White

Alma College

Pillar of Fire Institution

Dean
Rev. A. K. White, A. M.
Located: Zarephath, N. J

Situated thirty-five miles from New York City. Over eight hundred acres, bounded on one side by the Millstone River and bisected by the charming Delaware and Raritan Canal. A place of loveliness and action. Sister Institution to Westminster College. Offers full preparatory and college courses.

No test of any particular religious creed is applied for admission. Westminster College and Alma College, orthodox and Methodistic in faith, take an emphatic stand for Bible Christianity. They are not in sympathy with so-called ''higher criticism,'' and, though eager to know and teach all of the advanced truths of science, they draw the line on mere speculative philosophy and hypotheses which, while they obliterate and destroy the old paths, mark out nothing certain and reliable in their stead. Young men and young women at Westminster and Alma live in clean and wholesome Christian atmosphere. Both schools insist on high moral standards.

In connection with Alma College in New Jersey is the Zarephath Bible Institute, and in connection with Westminster College in Denver is the Denver Bible Institute—schools which offer general missionary and ministerial training on orthodox lines.

Rates are exceptionally easy. Opportunity is given in each school for a limited number of students to work in partial payment for board and tuition.

Colorado Woman's College

HARTFORD THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Founded in 1834

HARTFORD, CONN.

A Training School for the Christian Ministry

It is affiliated in The Hartford Seminary Foundation with The Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy and the Kennedy School of Missions, and provides, in addition to the customary course of instruction for the ministry, training in Psychology, Religious Education, and Missionary activity.

It prepares for the diversified task of the modern ministry by thorough scholarship, practical training, broad outlook, and interdenominational fellowship.

It is open to college graduates of all Denominations on equal terms. It offers liberal scholarships to students of high rank; and graduate fellowships for candidates for the degree of S.T.M. and Ph.D.

Its location in the city of Hartford (Population 160,000) gives opportunity for study of and coöperation with a wide range of efficient organizations for social betterment within the city, and ready access to the study of the problems of the manufacturing town and of the rural community in nearby places.

Its buildings and grounds are so designed as to secure adequate instructional facilities and congenial social life.

The Choate School

Wallingford, Connecticut

The School was founded in 1896 by the Hon. William G. Choate and Mark Pitman.

Its location, about twelve miles north of New Haven, has proved to be one of the most healthful in New England.

Its numbers are large enough to make for strong esprit de corps and athletic rivalry, without being so large as to prevent a distinct family life and the necessary attention to individuality and development.

Its policy is by a large corps of masters to give to each boy what he individually needs, without holding to any rigid system of forms.

Its effort is unsparing to strengthen in the boys' minds high motives of action which shall permanently control their lives; and to send out boys who are trained for responsible citizenship.

The Lower School prepares boys for the Upper School, as the Upper prepares them for college.

A catalogue of the School is sent upon application, with the names of those who know intimately the School's work and character.

WOODWARD SCHOOL FOR BOYS

G. G. CULBERTSON, A.B. (Emporia); A. M. (American University), Headmaster

This school, formerly known as the Y. M. C. A. Day School for Boys, has been named the Woodward School as a tribute to the late S. W. Woodward, for many years a fine spirited public servant of the city of Washington. The school uses the well-equipped Educational Department of the Y. M. C. A. and the gymnasium, swimming, and game facilities of the Boys' Department.

Modern education, both grade and college preparatory, is furnished at moderate cost to boys above the age of ten. A system of supervised study is applied to all classes. The distinctive features of the school are these: Restricted classes, individual attention, supervised study, vocational guidance under well-chosen faculty, gymnasium work and out-of-door athletics, swimming, educational trips and practical talks by professional and business men.

College preparatory subjects are taught by college trained men who are familiar with college entrance requirements. Boys are prepared for the College Entrance Board examinations.

KNOX

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

GALESBURG, ILLINOIS

Established as a department of Knox College in 1883

The study of music may be pursued with private teachers, and ofttimes with splendid results, but sooner or later the music student, as well as the literary aspirant, must seek the institution where high ideals are contagious. For this reason, the serious music student finds advantages in the study of music at Knox Conservatory which are scarcely to be gained in larger schools devoted entirely to that purpose. On the other hand, the college student receives a broader education, either directly or indirectly, from a course of study pursued in a musical atmosphere such as is found at Knox.

GREGG SCHOOL

Six North Michigan Ave.
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

A Business School of Superior Merit

You feel of a fabric, you listen to the golden tone of a musical instrument, you live in a book—and you judge a school.

That judgment you base upon the type of student body attracted to its class rooms, its reputation among the general public and upon the special reputation its graduates have created in the minds of business men, whose word in the end must carry deepest conviction. There is, too, a genuine satisfaction not accounted for by reasoning in allying oneself with what instinctively appeals as the best.

Gregg School, home of Gregg Shorthand, offers stenographic, secretarial, bookkeeping and accounting courses of the highest standard. It welcomes an investigation, secure in the quality of its teaching and the fruitfulness of the results obtained by its graduates.

Miss Spaids' School for Girls

Miss Spaids' School places strong emphasis upon the general studies, believing that they are essential to the training for ideal American womanhood. ¶ Socially, the woman of real power and leadership is one who has the capability of discrimination, of sane knowledge, of relative values in life, sympathy and understanding. These qualities are developed in the school. ¶ The Boarding Department of the school is founded upon the belief that a young girl, at the crucial period of development, needs the formative stimulus of an outside influence. A high sense of honor is maintained, and the spirit of the school finds expression in thoughtfulness for others, punctuality, and thoroughness. ¶ The School aims to inspire the girls with the purpose to make the best use of their lives and of their talents,—to be happy and earnest, and a strong influence for good wherever they may live.

Will YOUR Name Be Here Some Day?

Only one man out of every two thousand qualifies to be listed in "Who's Who"—America's Directory of Success. Will YOUR name appear some day?

WHO'S Who In America lists the men who do big things. Out of every two thousand men, only one qualifies to have his name entered. Achievement is the passport to admittance.

And it is worthy of note that there is a higher percentage of law-trained men listed in the book than the members of any other business group or profession.

Why is it that law-trained men predominate? Because, in business, law lies at the root of every step taken. That is why law-trained men are sought after for the responsible positions today.

Law enters into even the smallest thing you do in business, and this is true no matter what your field. Selling, accounting, production, finance—whatever end of your business you may be in—law-training will give you an edge that spells greater, quicker, and more certain success for you.

Law-Training Made Easy

What is the best method for obtaining a legal training? Through the Blackstone Legal Training Course and Service—a course prepared by 80 of the most eminent legal authorities in the United States. Included in the list are Chief Justice William Howard Taft and Associate Justice George Sutherland of the United States Supreme Court, and the deans of eight of the leading resident law schools of the country. Graduates of the course are awarded the LL.B. degree.

45,000 students have already been enrolled. Hundreds of them have been admitted to the bar while thousands of others have been fitted for bigger and better positions in the business world.

Use the Coupon

Full details of the course are given in an interesting 128-page book, "The Law-Trained Man." You may have a copy, FREE, upon request. If you would have your name appear in "Who's Who" some day, send for your booklet —NOW. There is no obligation.

The New England Conservatory of Music

Huntington Avenue BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

GEORGE W. CHADWICK, Director

Located in the musical center of America, the Conservatory affords pupils the opportunity, the environment, and atmosphere so necessary to a finished musical education.

The Conservatory Building, Huntington Avenue, is constructed on the most approved modern plans and is especially adapted to the needs of a music school. The larger auditorium, Jordan Hall, has a seating capacity of over a thousand.

The smaller auditorium, seating over four hundred, is used for lectures and pupils' recitals and for the Dramatic Department; also as an assembly hall for social purposes. The facilities for organ practice are unexcelled, fourteen pipe organs being used.

The curriculum offers courses in every branch of music, applied and theoretical, in class or private instruction: Pianoforte, Organ, Voice, Violin, Violoncello, and all other Orchestral Instruments, Composition, Harmony, History of Music, Theory, Solfeggio, Literature, Diction, Choir Training, Ensemble, Wood-wind Ensemble, and String Quartet. The Normal Department affords practical training for teaching.

The vocal and instrumental lessons of the school are given either privately or in classes of three; the theoretical work (dictation, harmony, solfeggio, etc.) is taught in larger classes.

French, Italian, and German are studied. The Dramatic Department affords practical training in acting.

Walnut Hill School for Girls

NATICK, MASS.

The school is three miles west of Wellesley College on the Boston and Albany Railroad, seventeen miles from Boston.

The grounds comprise about fifty acres and include a basket-ball field, three tennis courts, and a field for lawn hockey. There is every opportunity for regular open air exercise in games, horse-back riding, and walking and every student is required to exercise in the open air at least one hour every day.

Great care is taken that the school life may be wholesome as well as pleasant. Extravagance in dress, amusement and personal expenditure is discouraged.

The object of the school is to prepare girls to enter college in good health, with thoughtful and accurate habits of study and a thorough knowledge of the subjects required for admission. The school is approved by the College Entrance Certificate Board.

Training for Authorship

How to write, what to write, and where to sell

Cultivate your mind. Develop your literary gifts. Master the art of self-expression. Make your spare time profitable. Turn your ideas into dollars.

Courses in Short-Story Writing, Versification, Journalism, Play Writing, Photoplay Writing, etc., taught personally by Dr. J. Berg Esenwein, for many years editor of Lippincott's Magazine, and a staff of literary experts. Constructive criticism. Frank, honest, helpful advice. Real Teaching.

One pupil has received over $5,000 for stories and articles written mostly in spare time—"play work," he calls it. Another pupil received over $1,000 before completing her first course. Another, a busy wife and mother, is averaging over $75 a week from photoplay writing alone.

There is no other institution or agency doing so much for writers, young or old. The universities recognize this, for over one hundred members of the English faculties of higher institutions are studying in our Literary Department. The editors recognize it, for they are constantly recommending our courses.

We publish The Writer's Library, descriptive booklet free. We also publish The Writer's Monthly, an indispensable magazine for literary workers, sample copy 25c. Besides our teaching service, we offer a manuscript criticism service.

THOMAS CHALMERS, A.B., D.D., Director

A College Preparatory School with Military Discipline. The Military Course is secondary to the Academic, but is approved by the War Department and directed by army officers. Supplies are furnished by the Government.

The School fits for Harvard or any other College, Technical School, West Point or Annapolis. It has a complete equipment, seven buildings, Laboratory, Gymnasium, Swimming Pool, Hockey Rink, Tennis Courts and Athletic Fields.

The School has all the advantages of country life, yet it lies within eight miles of the Historic, Artistic, Literary and Medical resources of Boston.

The chief purpose of the Military Training is to promote habits of alertness and moral steadiness.

The daily routine takes care of the boys' study hours, class periods, social life and athletics from reveille at 6:45 to taps at 9:30 with the least possible friction and confusion. Study and play are supervised by college bred men. The boys of the Junior School live by themselves. They have their own Dormitory, Study Hall and Athletic Teams.

Adjacent to the University of Missouri. Mutual interchange of credits. University students have a better chance for Bible study than in the average church college.

Fifteen Bible College Courses are credited toward degrees in the University of Missouri. Four men devote all their time to this work.

The problems of religious education at state universities are best met through a united religious approach. The Disciples of Christ, Congregationalists and the Presbyterians U. S. A. are at present enlisted in the work of the Bible College of Missouri. The Methodists have already made a beginning. Other religious bodies are considering joining in the work.

More than fifty students from the Bible College have gone to the foreign field since 1904. Yet greater numbers have entered the ministry. Each year students are turned to the ministry, mission field, or other kind of religious vocation through Bible College influence.

Dartmouth College

Hanover, New Hampshire

Founded by royal charter from George III, 1769. The charter of the College was an outgrowth of a plan of the Reverend Eleazar Wheelock for the education of Indians. The idea of the founder was early modified and Dartmouth's development has been that of the other New England colleges. The attempt to expand its function and change its title to that of a university, which occurred in 1816, resulted in the famous law-suit known as the Dartmouth College Case, which brought decision in favor of the College.

Dartmouth College has now a restricted enrollment of 2,000 students and a faculty numbering about 200.

The courses of undergraduate instruction lead to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science.

The Associated Schools are:

The Amos Tuck School of Administration and Finance A Graduate School offering two years of special preparation for business careers. Students of three years' undergraduate standing admitted to the work of the first year, which leads to the bachelor's degree.

William R. Gray, Dean

The Thayer School of Civil Engineering Established 1867, essentially a graduate school, which offers a general course of study and practice in Civil Engineering, so developed as to include the essential principles of all important branches.

Charles A. Holden, Director

The Medical School Established in 1798. Candidates for the A. B. or B. S. degree in Dartmouth College may satisfy the specific requirements of both the College and the Medical School in three years, and may elect the first year in medicine as the senior year in college. Dartmouth Medical School has bestowed no degrees since 1914.

An Interdenominational School of Theology open on equal terms to students of all churches. College graduation is required for admission. The aim of the institution is to train for theological scholarship and also for effective ministry in the various branches of the Christian Church.

A four years' course of theological study leads to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity and to a Vocational Diploma in the Pastorate, Religious Education, Foreign Missions, or other forms of ministry. The four years' course may be reduced to three or three and a half years by taking certain specified subjects in college.

The Master's and Doctor's degrees in theology are offered for further study and work leading to the degrees of M.A. and Ph.D. may be taken in the graduate schools of Columbia and New York Universities and in Teachers College. A number of Resident and Traveling Fellowships are open to students of high grade and Prize Scholarships are offered upon the basis of competitive examinations. Tuition fee $150.

MOHEGAN LAKE SCHOOL

MILITARY

MOHEGAN LAKE, WESTCHESTER COUNTY, NEW YORK

ESTABLISHED IN 1880, Mohegan Lake School has been under the partial or entire management of the present principal since 1890.

THE LOCATION of the school is on the banks of Mohegan Lake, forty-five miles from New York City, in the beautiful, healthful Highland Region of Westchester County, five hundred feet above the Hudson River level.

THE MILITARY ORGANIZATION has been in existence in the school since its foundation. The work of the corps is of a high order, steadfastly adhering to ideals and traditions long established, and meeting admirably the demands of our present day life.

THE COURSES OF STUDY are designed not only to prepare boys for college, university, and technical school, but also for life.

THE JUNIOR SCHOOL has a three years' course to fit younger boys for the upper school.

PHYSICAL TRAINING AND ATHLETICS are under the direction of competent men, who utilize the lake for swimming, rowing and hockey, and the athletic fields for base ball, foot ball, tennis, setting-up drills, military drills, and parades.

THE HOME LIFE is cordial and refined, and is an inspiration to boys for the cultivation of religious, family, and social qualities.

Educational Ideals of the National Bible Institute

The Christian Worker Should Be Expert!

I. The Central Point in the Curriculum Is the Bible. In the regular two- and three-year Institute courses more than sixty per cent of the students' time in classes is occupied with the study of the Bible alone.

II. Particular Attention Is Given to the Practical Relation of the Bible to Problems of Christian Service and Ministry.

III. The Standard Set for Scholarship Is High, but Not Impossible or Impracticable for Men and Women Who Are Really Called of God for Christian Service.

IV. The Primary Purpose Is to Train Men and Women to Be Successful Soul-winners. This demands the development of both intellectual power and spiritual life. An atmosphere of believing prayer pervades the Institute, and practical Christian work is done by the students throughout the entire course.

Courses of Study Offered for 1924-1925

I. Theological
II. Missionary
III. Christian Service, Nursing
IV. Christian Service, Secretarial
V. Gospel Music
VI. Christian Service, Medical
VII. Preparatory

The National Bible Institute is most advantageously located at the heart of the City of New York. Graduates of the Institute are now at work in Foreign Mission Lands under 35 different denominational and interdenominational Mission Boards.

Saint John's School

BOX W 13
MANLIUS, NEW YORK

BRIG. GEN. WILLIAM VERBECK
President

Saint John's School was founded at Manlius in 1869 by the late Bishop Frederic D. Huntington.

For thirty-six years it has been under the same president, who has patterned it after the great English schools, Harrow, Rugby and especially Winchester, from which it has borrowed, among other good things, its ancient motto: "Manners makyth man."

It offers preparation for college and business and successfully combines the theoretical with the practical in developing its boys.

The School is not permitted to grow so large as to lose the element of personal attention to each pupil which has contributed to its success in the past.

118 graduates now attending 53 leading colleges.

Junior School for boys under 14.

Ranked by the War Department as "Honor School" for twenty years and gives superior Military Training through its Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

Bingham Military School

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

"The Land of the Sky"

FOUNDED 1793.

Bingham is the oldest school for boys in the Southern States, and has always ranked with the great schools of the Middle and New England States.

More than a century ago, it fixed the standard for the education of boys, not only in the Carolinas, but in many other states.

Bingham training has become noted over a large part of the country, both on account of its high ideals of manhood and its high standard of scholarship. Its alumni are prominent in all walks of life, in nearly every state in the union.

The faculty is composed entirely of professional teachers who represent the best of our colleges and universities.

All forms of athletics. R. O. T. C. Unit under the War Department.

Blue Ridge School for Boys

Hendersonville, North Carolina

A SELECT preparatory school of high standards that offers to a limited number of boys, from nine to twenty years of age, a more intensive system of instruction than is usually found in the public schools. Ideally located in the picturesque mountains of Western North Carolina, where the climate is healthful, invigorating and conducive to study. Each boy's personality carefully studied and his training directed by an efficient teaching staff composed of virile, patriotic men with successful teaching careers. A teacher for every eight or ten boys insures much individual attention in studies. Boys are taught HOW TO STUDY. All branches of athletics directed and supervised by able instructors.

High moral tone; cultured, homelike environments; non-military.

Fifteen states and several foreign countries represented in the enrollment.

A PREPARATORY SCHOOL FOR BOYS IN THE MOUNTAINS OF NO. CAROLINA

Where a Boy Can Grow and Develop Under the Most Favorable Climatic Conditions East of the Mississippi River

Believing that the health of its students is the first consideration of an ideal school, the founders made a careful study of the country from Maine to Florida in search of the most healthful region in the eastern half of the United States, and selected a site in the mountains of North Carolina. The remarkable health record and unusual physical gains of the pupils during the twenty-three years the school has been in existence, show conclusively the wisdom of the selection. The methods, standards, faculty and equipment are equivalent to those of the best Northern schools.

Washington and Jefferson College

Washington, Pennsylvania

Location	The College is located in Washington, Pennsylvania, a town of about 25,000 inhabitants, situated among the foothills of the Allegheny mountains, noted for its healthfulness.
History	The College is known as the oldest College west of the Allegheny Mountains, and traces its origin to classical schools founded in 1780. It was chartered as an academy in 1787 and as a college in 1802. Its alumni exceed 4,500, a large proportion of whom have attained positions of prominence in church and state.
Curriculum	The College has always made a specialty of the preparation of men to pursue professional study, and four-fifths of its alumni have entered the professions of theology, medicine and law. Its elective system is adapted to give the best preparation for students intending to pursue these professions and to engage in teaching or business.
Physical Training	Attention to physical training under competent medical advice and in a well equipped gymnasium and athletic field, has been required for the last twenty years.

PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA

Founded in 1869 as a college of Liberal Arts. The first catalogue states that the object of the college is to furnish an education to young women equal to that given to young men, and the degree of A.B. was granted from the beginning.

Situated in the beautiful residential section of the East End known as Woodland Road, the location combines the advantages of the city and country. Quite apart from the noise of the city it is within five minutes of the car lines. A natural amphitheater provides a beautiful place for pageants and festivals attended by many thousands annually. Athletic grounds afford ample opportunity for all activities. College buildings number five. The dormitory life is particularly attractive and homelike and day students share largely in the social life of the college.

A four-year course leads to the degree of A.B. The courses in Education give the teacher's certificate and professional certificates are given in the special departments of Music, Social Service and Spoken English. Students of the college are able to take advantage of unusual opportunities in Art, and in Music which Pittsburgh provides, while leading lecturers on many subjects are constantly brought to the college to the daily assemblies and the weekly lecture hour. The College is thoroughly Christian in spirit, but undenominational. It is the only woman's college of its kind in Western Pennsylvania. The campaign now on seeks for a larger endowment and new buildings.

Marion Junior College

A SUPERIOR SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

It is a school which has not sacrificed sound educational principle to modern fad.

It gives the fundamentals of college training in a two-year diploma course.

In addition, there are courses under specialists in piano, pipe organ, voice, violin, household economics, expression, shorthand and typewriting.

For those who have not completed high school, a standard high school course is offered, and girls taking the high school course have the same cultural advantages and opportunities as the college students.

The needs of each student are made a subject of careful consideration, and instead of eliminating backward students, every effort is made to encourage and help them.

All of the work in all departments is standard, and the prices are far below the average.

It is situated on top of the Allegheny mountains in the far-famed bluegrass region of southwestern Virginia.

A SCHOOL THE BOY WILL LIKE

Isn't that what you want for YOUR boy? You know how any boy will WORK when the work appeals to him and when the surroundings are congenial. That is one of the great secrets of the success of

St. John's Military Academy

This great school is famous for the ESPRIT of its students and the loyalty of its graduates. It takes a boy at the most impressionable period of his life and by a happy combination of military routine, study, and athletic sports, arouses first his INTEREST, which is quickly followed by loyalty and enthusiasm. With this attitude toward his school, the boy is ready to absorb much more than can be taught from books. The education at St. John's is not a mere "book learning" education. It is broader and deeper. It TRAINS a boy for life and MAKES HIM a GOOD citizen.

The good work of St. John's has been recognized by the government, which maintains a unit of the R. O. T. C. at the school under the supervision of Regular Army Officers.

WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA

¶ Notwithstanding the fact that the value of each edition of WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA for up-to-date reference in regard to the living notables of the country is entirely supplanted by the succeeding new edition, the old volumes gain, year by year, in historical and reminiscent usefulness. The latest volume will, of course, always present the living with such increased completeness as to be indispensable for daily reference, yet the old editions become more and more valuable as records of those who have died, many of which it would be difficult, if not impossible, to find elsewhere. This fact is meeting with wide recognition, so that public, institutional and private libraries are keeping the old volumes as a series of the utmost value for presenting, with a completeness nowhere else attainable, the biographical history of the United States and all its varied interests and activities.

You should keep a complete file of Who's Who in America — from the first volume to the latest. If you have not procured the earlier volumes, BEGIN NOW.
